

Governor Charges Plot in Girl's $100,000 Suit

JACKSON, Miss., Nov. 23.—The whole state of Mississippi finds itself divided into two opposing factions, as a result of the $100,000 suit for alleged betrayal brought by Miss Frances Birkhead against Gov. Lee M. Russell.

The suit, brought by the chief executive's former stenographer, is to come up for trial in the federal court at Oxford, Miss., Dec. 4. Since the charges were made last February, factions have formed and there have been many heated quarrels over the case.

Miss Birkhead charges in her complaint that, while she was employed by Russell, he betrayed her. Russell not only denies her charges, but rejoins with a counter-charge that Miss Birkhead is merely the tool of his political enemies who are trying to wreck his life.

The case means either make or break for Russell, those who followed the developments from the beginning say.

Gov. Russell is being mentioned as the probable opponent of Sen. Pat Harrison, whose term ends in 1925. The elections will not take place until 1924, but it is the belief of Russell's supporters that, if he comes out victorious at this trial, he will be remembered favorably by the majority of the people at the primary.
